A GOODEARTH FOUNDATION SCHOOL

FROM THE PRINCIPAL'S DESK

Art is not a subject, it is the essence of life. Its relevance lies in how it helps us see, feel and express. In a school system, integrating art as pedagogy takes students and parents beyond textbooks to different dimensions of learning where concepts become experiences and emotions find a voice.

Art nurtures observation, empathy and creativity. The love and passion towards art should not remain a separate habit, but be integrated with our lifestyle. It should become our life-culture, where everyone - be it parents, teachers, students or any individual - loves art, whether fine or performing, and art naturally becomes a part of everybody's life.

It is heartening to see the school's Art Department fostering young talent while thoughtfully weaving artistic expression into the curriculum and teaching practices, making learning more engaging and enriching.

I congratulate the Editorial team under the leadership of Sangeeta Ma'am and Ankita Ma'am for bringing out yet another vibrant edition of MERAKI which will surely be a treat to go through.

Warm regards
Gunendra Kumar Mishra

About MERAKI

Art breathes through silence, speaks through light and turns the unseen into sight.

From the colours on a canvas to stories told through every brushstroke, MERAKI has become a celebration of creativity at Eicher School Faridabad. First introduced in the academic session 2023–24, this art edition was envisioned as a platform to showcase the remarkable artistic expressions of our students, parents, alumni and teachers. Over the years, it has grown into a vibrant gallery of imagination, passion and talent.

This edition brings an exciting new dimension to MERAKI by celebrating not only the artwork within these pages but also the inspiring journeys of our student artists and alumni who are sharing their creativity with the world through their own Instagram art pages. Their stories remind us that art knows no boundaries—it evolves, connects and continues to inspire, even beyond the classrooms.

Welcome to MERAKI—where every creation is made with heart and every page reflects the soul of an artist.

EICHER'S ART MENTORS

Art is not merely about colours on a canvas; it is about seeing the world differently, finding beauty in the ordinary and giving wings to imagination. At Eicher School Faridabad, this beautiful journey of creativity is guided with dedication and passion by our inspiring art mentors — Ms Aruna Marwah, Ms Kajal Chhabra and Mr Arvind Kumar Singh.

Their classrooms are more than spaces for learning art. They are places where creativity finds courage, imagination finds expression and young artists discover their own voices. Through their knowledge, patience, encouragement and artistic vision, they inspire students to experiment, create and believe in the power of their ideas.

MS ARUNA MARWAH

My journey as an Art teacher working with young learners in the Foundation Years segment began in 2025. Since then, each day in the art room has been a rewarding experience filled with creativity, discovery and joy. My art classes extend beyond drawing and colouring. They provide students with opportunities to develop their observation skills, patience, creativity, fine motor skills and self-confidence. I encourage my students to experiment, learn from their mistakes, try again and appreciate the creative process rather than focus solely on the final outcome.

From their first hesitant strokes to colourful compositions filled with imagination, my students have grown increasingly confident in expressing their ideas. Each artwork tells a unique story. Their unconventional use of colours and imaginative ideas often remind me that children perceive the world in ways that adults may overlook.

What makes this journey particularly meaningful is the enthusiasm with which the children enter the art room. Their excitement, curiosity and thoughtful questions make every class special. Their creations, however simple, are among my greatest rewards. As I continue this journey, I hope to nurture these young artists to think differently, express themselves freely and appreciate beauty in the simplest things.

MS KAJAL CHHABRA

For the young learners from classes I to VIII, art and craft is all about the fascinating world of imagination, colours and creativity. My classroom is a buzzing space where imagination, self-expression and innovation find their way through colours, textures and diverse artistic techniques.

I encourage my students to explore their ideas freely while developing important skills such as observation, patience and attention to details. Through engaging art and craft activities, I aim to build confidence and inspire a lifelong appreciation for creativity. They learn the basics and with every passing day, continue to enhance their artistic skills.

Watching young minds transform simple materials into meaningful creations, makes teaching art a truly rewarding experience for me.

MR ARVIND KUMAR SINGH

Art opens a world of creativity and exploration, allowing students to express ideas, experiment with techniques and develop their artistic potential. Teaching art to senior students is both challenging and immensely rewarding. I am passionate about nurturing young talent and guiding aspiring artists as they prepare for higher education and admission to reputed art institutions.

I help students build strong foundations in drawing, colour, composition, perspective and various painting mediums while encouraging them to develop their unique artistic style. Through a blend of theory, practical work, experimentation, and constructive feedback, I guide them in creating meaningful portfolios and preparing for entrance exams and interviews.

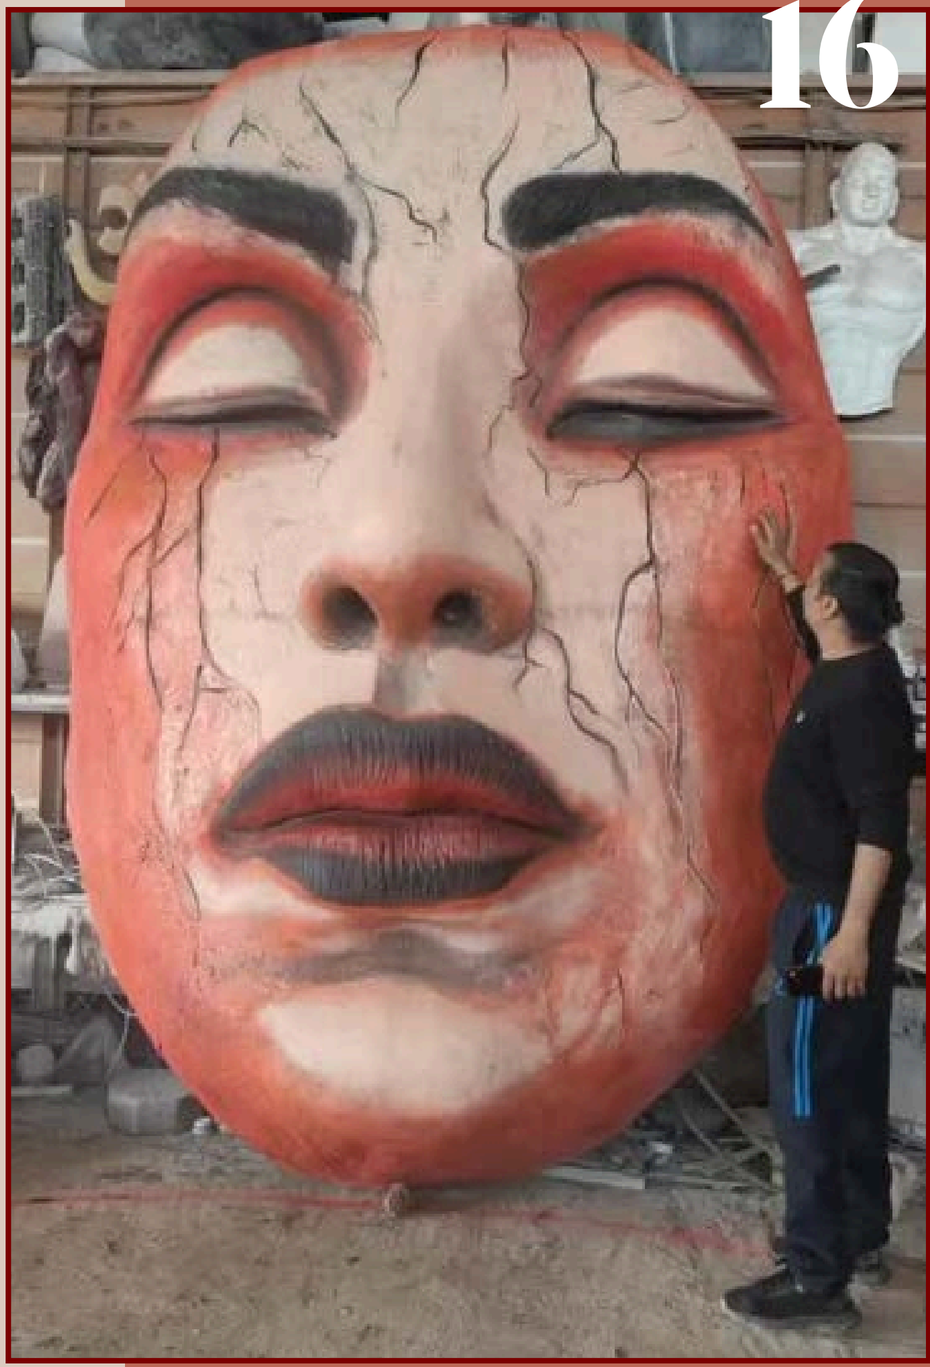

The greatest reward is seeing my students excel in their chosen fields and establish their own identity as artists. As a mentor, witnessing their talent flourish and their dreams take shape is truly a proud and fulfilling experience.

Art has always been my favourite way to express myself. Ever since I was a child, I have loved painting, creating crafts, and experimenting with new ideas. Every artwork in this portfolio holds a memory of the time, effort, and imagination I poured into it. Although I don't get as much time to create these days, my love for creativity remains strong. Looking back at these pieces reminds me of how much I have grown, both as an artist and as a person.

Art is my way of expressing ideas, emotions and imagination. I started creating art at the age of six and have been experimenting with different mediums ever since. My inspirations are mostly drawn from nature and people. I enjoy exploring different styles and techniques, from detailed sketches and hatching to colourful, dreamy oil paintings. I believe art is not about being perfect; it is about exploring, learning and expressing oneself freely. Every artwork is a new experience that inspires me to keep creating and improving.

Art found me the moment I could hold a colour in my hand. As a child, I loved drawing and painting animals and my passion for art only grew with time. During the COVID-19 pandemic, I had the opportunity to truly explore my craft by learning sketching, shading and facial anatomy, while also developing confidence with the brush. Today, I enjoy experimenting with oils, acrylics, coloured pencils, glitter and even stones. One important lesson came from a painting I accidentally ruined but managed to transform into something even more beautiful. It taught me that no artwork is ever truly ruined; sometimes, it simply needs a new perspective. Today, art is my therapy and my happy place. I hope to continue creating from my imagination and exploring new styles in the future.
